

CALL for APPLICANTS!

FY 2022 Tohoku University Global Hagi Scholarship

Tohoku University offers scholarships to exceptional 2nd-year master's and 1st-year doctoral students who possess an abundance of both motivation to study at this University and talent, thus providing an environment in which these students can dedicate themselves to academic research.

International Students are also welcome to apply!

1. Scholarship Eligibility

Student in his/her 2nd-year of a master's program or 1st-year doctoral program as of April 2022 and fulfills all of the below requirements. (Students enrolled under Special Selection Program for Working Adults are excluded.)

- 1) Having a strong desire to continue from a master's to a doctoral program at Tohoku University.
- 2) Be of excellent character and in excellent academic standing
- 3) Not be a recipient of certain scholarships or grants provided by the university
- 4) Not be a recipient of certain scholarships, stipends, etc. provided by institutions or other private organizations outside of the university.

2. Amount and Delivery of Scholarship Payment

JPY 600,000 per year (JPY 50,000 per month)

*As a general rule, the scholarship payment period shall continue to the student's doctoral program from their master's program. However, it shall not exceed the standard course term as stipulated by the university.

*The scholarship recipient will be screened at the end of March to see if s/he is an appropriate individual to continuously receive the scholarship.

3. Application Deadline

November 15, 2022

4. How to Apply

Prepare the application form and other necessary document(s) and submit it to the Office of Student Support Section, School of Science.

💡 For details, please check "FY 2022 Tohoku University Graduate School of Science Global Hagi Scholarship Application Guidelines".