

CALL for APPLICANTS!

FY 2023 Tohoku University Global Hagi Scholarship

For October enrollment

Tohoku University offers scholarships to exceptional 2nd-year master's and 1st-year doctoral students who possess an abundance of both motivation to study at this University and talent, thus providing an environment in which these students can dedicate themselves to academic research.

International Students are also welcome to apply!

1. Scholarship Eligibility

Students who enroll in October and currently meet all the requirements for a 2nd year master's program or 1st year of doctoral program

- 1) Having a strong desire to continue from a master's to a doctoral program at Tohoku University.
- 2) Be of excellent character and in excellent academic standing
- 3) Not be a recipient of certain scholarships or grants provided by the university
- 4) Not be a recipient of certain scholarships, stipends, etc. provided by institutions or other private organizations outside of the university.

2. Amount and Delivery of Scholarship Payment

JPY 600,000 per year (JPY 50,000 per month)

*As a general rule, the scholarship payment period shall continue to the student's doctoral program from their master's program. However, it shall not exceed the standard course term as stipulated by the university.

* It is necessary to apply for the renewal of the scholarship in the following year.

3. Application Deadline

Nov. 27, 2023 (Please check with your department for the filling period)

4. How to Apply

Prepare the application form and other necessary document(s) instructed by your department office and submit it to the Office of Academic Affairs Section, School of Science.

(Student of Math department directly submit to the Math Department office.)

 For details, please check "FY 2023 Tohoku University Graduate School of Science Global Hagi Scholarship Application Guidelines".